..The... Angelus Piano Player

THE ANGELUS is the original piano player. It has all the features of the other piano players and many new improvements of its own. On the Angelus you get different musical instrument effects that are possible only with the Angelus. With the Angelus you can produce the following effects at will:

- A piano playing alone.
- A piano with a violin effect.
- A piano with a flute effect.
- An orchestral organ playing alone.
- A piano and full orchestral organ combined.

All Sherman, Clay & Co. ask is that you make a comparison before you buy—nine out of ten times the Angelus is selected. The Angelus is made in three styles—$250, $275 and $300. Ask for the booklet "The Wedding of Mechanics and Art," telling about the Angelus.

Psycho, the musical mystery, is now performing on the Angelus in Sherman, Clay & Co.'s windows. Some people say that Psycho is a human being, others declare it an automaton. However, if Psycho can get such music out of the Angelus without putting any expression into it, the playing, think how much better you must get out of the whole solo and energy into the composition. Psycho will be on exhibition today, tomorrow and Wednesday, between the hours of 3 and 5:30 in the afternoon and 7:30 and 9 in the evenings.

WOULD REDUCE LIQUOR LICENSES.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS TO MEET.

SALOON TAX WILL BE PRINCIPAL ISSUE AT HAYWARDS ELECTION.

AN INTERESTING FIELD DAY WILL BE HELD AT THE UNIVERSITY.

HAYWARDS, Mar. 21.—As election day draws nearer local politics is attracting more attention, and the coming fight promises to eclipse any that has occurred here for many years.

It is understood that the saloon men have formed a combination which will make a great effort to hold a majority on the Town Board of Trustees. The terms of Trustees Crosby and Powell will expire this election, and with the reelection of Trustee Benson, there will be three vacancies. For these places the combination will make a fight.

The reason for the liquor people interesting themselves in the election is the liquor license question, which has been a hot issue for some time. The present license is $50 a quarter. It was at one time $25, and to that figure the saloon men are anxious to have it lowered.

The report that the saloon men have been attempting to handle politics has been denied by them.

For the past week politics has been exceptionally quiet and no recent move of the saloon people has been noticeable. It is possible, however, that they are waiting a chance to play their cards. Should the play become open there is promise of a lively time. The saloon men are not likely to doubt that a hand in the fight, and for that reason any plan on foot is strictly covered. Recently a number of moves were proposed to fill the vacancies, which caused a great deal of laughter about town. The day was so even and quiet that the voters were amused rather than alarmed. The names were dropped.

President Hayes of the Board of Town Trustees, who is one of the proprietors of the brewery in this place, although a dealer in liquor, has recently expressed his opinion that Haywards cannot afford a reduction of licenses.

Court Haywards, No. 7, Foresters of America, will meet next Thursday night and elect delegates to the Grand Convention of Foresters, which will be held in Sacramento during the month of May. There is promise of a lively time at the meeting. There are many members who wish to attend the convention as delegates, but only a limited number will be appointed.

U. P. E. C. DANCE.
On Saturday night, April 5th, Ashland Council, U. P. E. C., will give its second semi-annual dance. The affair will take place at Native Sons' Hall in Haywards.

Miss Haggar, Mrs. Langworth and Mr. Lewis opened the program with a very effective manner, the whole trio bearing evidence of much careful study and constant practice.

Miss Haggar's piano part was rendered with great brilliancy, the clean technique and ease with which she played was a marked feature of the intelligent performance.

While the piano has more opportunity than the instrumental parts were afforded, especially in the adante, a most beautiful number well played. The scherzo was rendered most delicately, though a little slow. But the final allegro was played with a dash that won prolonged applause.

Miss Haggar's solo, "Moszkowski's Waltz," Op. 87, No. 5, was a masterful rendition, showing great discrimination and a power in interpretation of delicate passages. She was many times recalled.

Miss Florence Doane, a young singer of most winning manner, made a beautiful picture as she stood amid the wealth of cherry blossoms, singing of spring and her Japanese love song. She has a voice of dramatic character and a great purity, well trained and pleasing. Her two groups of songs showed much versatility and were heartily applauded.

Mr. Leal played two "cello" solos with fine tone and much taste, also winning much applause. He is a pains-taking artist.

John Lewis played a beautiful "Legende" in truly artistic style. He is rapidly coming to the front as a violinist and has greatly improved since his first appearance, showing hard study and careful guidance.
